

Thank You, Teacher!

We always think you're a hero
Because you're a teacher and all.
And though last night was Halloween,
Today's still a school day, y'all!

Our kids are strung out from the late night
And more sugar than should be allowed.
And you get to deal with the fallout
Of wrangling that kind of crowd.

Even knowing today might be crazy
You've shown up like you always do—
With smiles and love for our kiddos
And that's why we appreciate you!
